Philatelic visit

The Philatelic Visit was an exciting, enriching experience that gave students a glimpse into the fascinating world of stamps and postcards. Each class had the opportunity to visit and explore the remarkable stamp collection carefully curated by Dr Rajesh Kothari. The visit helped students see how these small pieces of paper can tell big stories about history, culture, nature, famous personalities, and important events.

As students explored the collection, they observed stamps of different shapes, sizes, designs, and themes. They were curious to learn how stamps represent a country's identity and preserve significant moments from the past. The collection sparked their curiosity and encouraged them to look closely, ask questions, share their observations, and appreciate the stories and information captured in each stamp. It also offered them a glimpse into the fascinating hobby of philately, the collection and study of postage stamps.

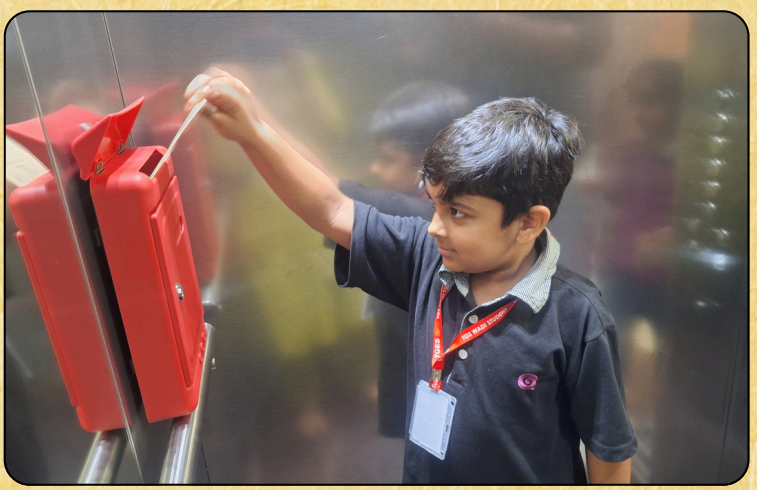

A special highlight of the visit was the hands-on postcard-writing activity. Students learned how to write a message, address a postcard correctly, and understand the role of stamps in sending letters from one place to another. They enthusiastically put their learning into practice by writing their own messages and addresses, experiencing a traditional form of communication in a world where digital messages have become so common.

The visit was more than just an opportunity to view a unique collection; it was a meaningful learning experience that connected history, communication, creativity, and general awareness. It helped students develop their observation skills, appreciate the art of collecting, and understand how stamps and postcards preserve historical and cultural memories.

The Philatelic Visit left students with new knowledge, memorable experiences, and a greater appreciation for the stories that stamps carry across generations. It was a wonderful reminder that even the smallest objects can open the door to a world of learning, curiosity, and discovery!

Assemblies

A Joyful Assembly

Our young learners came together for a special assembly filled with enthusiasm, confidence, and joy! The children had the chance to share what they've learned, listen to their peers, and participate with excitement. It was lovely to see them express themselves, appreciate one another, and learn together as a community.

The assembly was a beautiful reminder that every voice matters and every opportunity to share helps us grow!

Celebrating Hindi Divas

Our young learners celebrated Hindi Diwas with enthusiasm and joy! As part of the special occasion, the children participated in the assembly and recited beautiful Hindi poems with expressive actions and confidence. Their lively performances brought the poems to life and made the celebration engaging and memorable. It was a wonderful opportunity for them to appreciate the beauty of the Hindi language, express themselves creatively, and celebrate its richness through poetry and actions.

Leader In Me

Growing Leaders, One Step at a Time!
Through the Leader in Me programme, our young learners explored what leadership means and discovered the many ways they can be leaders in their everyday lives. Through engaging activities and discussions, they reflected on how they can lead themselves by making responsible choices, taking initiative, working collaboratively, and helping others. They began to understand that leadership is not just about being in charge but also about being responsible, showing kindness, listening to others, and making a positive difference in their classroom and community.

Fun Zone

Think Zone

I have no legs, but I can run.
I have no mouth, but I can roar.
I can be gentle or strong.
You can find me in rivers and seas.
What am I?

Book

Pet Sqaud

By Paul Shipton

Pet Squad tells the story of what pets do when humans aren't around. The Pet Squad and their fearless leader, Bubbles the goldfish, need to plan a rescue for Ginger the kitten from a gang of dogs.

Movie

Tooth Trouble

Tom skips lunch due to a painful toothache, and iYO notices. They work together to find soft foods for him. At the playground, iYO's mother brings chocolate cake, but Tom can't eat it because of the nuts. Later, Tom's mother reassures him that losing baby teeth for permanent ones is normal, and Tom feels better.
